The Petroleum Planning and Analysis Cell (PPAC) under Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas, Govt of India conducted the largest exclusive survey on usage of Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) and energy access in the country, which covered 120 districts in 13 states and collected primary data from 1.03 lakh unconnected LPG households in over 53 days from September – December 2015. In addition to households, the exercise also surveyed 1,418 grampanchayats in 120 districts for views on drivers and barriers to the use of LPG as a clean cooking fuel.
